

Engineering India's growing cities into tomorrow's smart cities

With 25% of energy demand estimated to come from buildings, energy efficiency is the answer to sustainable urban development.

Danfoss engineers solutions for smarter buildings and infrastructure that help improve energy savings, reduce pollution and make cities more livable and connected. Aiming to achieve more with less - this is how we help India realize the potential of its smart cities.

Discover how today's technologies are engineering tomorrow's India at www.danfoss.in

20%

potential for energy
savings in buildings
with ventilation and air conditioning
systems

ENGINEERING
TOMORROW

Danfoss